SLAYERS OF PRESIDENT IS CARMACK NOW ON TRIAL

Father and Son Arraigned With

Murder

FEELING RUNS HIGH AND PEOPLE MOURN THE DEAD

Wearing Badges on Which is Carmack's Picture; Judge
Refuses Delay

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 20.—The trial of Colonel Duncan Cooper, his son, Robin, and John D. Sharp, jointly indicted for the murder of ex-Senator Carmack, began today. Feeling is of the highest. Many are wearing mourning badges bearing Senator Carmack's photograph.

The case is being tried before Judge William M. Hart. The defendants appeared cool, and expressed their confidence in the outcome. Judge J. M. Anderson, senior counsel for the defense, attempted to secure a postponement until such time as public feeling may subside. The court overruled the motion. A venire of a hundred prospective jurors was present at the opening of the court.

FLINT AND PERKINS WILL RALLY TO HIS SUPPORT

Situation is Considered Too
Grave to Admit of Any Trifling

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—President Roosevelt is gratified at California reports following the publication of his letter to Gillett. He is confident the general sentiment is supporting him. It is understood that the possibility of war with Japan entered the situation, though no suggestion of possible rupture in the event that California passes the measure contemplated, has entered during the discussion between President Roosevelt and the Californians.

It is suggested by high officials that the present position of California and the Federal government is different from the controversy of two years ago. It cannot be claimed, as formerly, that the action of California will be merely an independent action of a state, and that any hostile legislation or official utterance she might make should not be taken as

BIG DITCH FOR SANTIAGO CREEK RESERVOIR SUPPLY COMPLETED YESTERDAY

Yesterday the thirty-head ditch from the Santiago creek below the County Park to the Barham ranch, owned by the Serrano Water Co., supplying the Villa Park neighborhood, and the John T. Carpenter Water Co., supplying the El Modena neighborhood was completed. This ditch is the one that was contemplated in the making of the contract between the Irvine Co. and the water users of the Santiago creek, which has been opposed by some of the water users, fought in the superior court by them, decided against them and shortly to be taken to the supreme court by their attorneys. Without waiting for a decision on the points at issue in the suit, the ditch has been built and water will be diverted from the creek to the reservoir on the Barham ranch. Surplus water in the creek will be run in the ditch this season.

The ditch starts below the Conley ranch, follows a ravine toward the west, crosses the county road at a point where an oak tree stands in the ravine, and continues in the ravine to the upper part of the water companies' property.

At present it seems to be the intention to put the water on the Barham ranch only. Under the Irvine contract an acreage in the gravelly, brush and cactus covered land adjoining the ranch on the south may be used. Hitherto the Barham ranch reservoir has covered only about five acres, the water soaking into the earth to the bedrock formation which throws it toward the submerged dam at the Point of Rocks, where the division of water between the two water companies is made. By this percolation many times the amount of water is stored than could be held on the surface alone. By throwing up small dams and ridges above the present area covered by water the acreage covered can be increased to thirty acres on the Barham ranch alone.

Conservation of water in this manner has met the approval of all the water users, those opposing the Irvine contract declaring that they did so on other grounds. Both sides recognize the ditch as a great asset. It may be used until the supreme court decides the suit. Should the decision be in favor of the contract, the ditch will be in and further steps in conservation ready to be taken. Should the decision be against the contract, the water companies may take up negotiations for the ditch.

Arrangements have been made by the opponents of the Irvine contract for taking the case to the supreme court, the contracts with the attorneys being so worded.

The decision in the contract suit will decide another matter that has recently arisen in the water companies. An assessment has been made on the stockholders of the Serrano Water Co. to pay the expenses of the litigation now under way, the majority of the stockholders and the water board having hired attorneys to represent them in fighting to secure a decision favorable to the contract. Of course, the assessment strikes the opponents as well, and it is the purpose of the opponents to refuse to pay the assessment until the supreme court decision is reached. The point at issue in the case is this: Shall the majority of the company control? The Superior court has decided that it shall, that the water company is a co-operative concern with power to deal with the water rights of the minority. If the Superior court is upheld and the right of the company to enter the Irvine contract sustained, then the opponents will concede that the company also had a right to assess them for litigation expenses and will pay the assessment.

ELECTION ON FOR TOMORROW

Proposal for Raise in S. A. V. I.
Co., Capital Stock Up to Vote Then

Tomorrow is the day set for the election of the stockholders of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Co. to determine whether or not the capital stock of the company shall be raised from $100,000 to $500,000. The hour for the meeting at the office at Orange is 10 o'clock. It has often been the experience of the water companies that a quorum does not show up at meetings, but the prospects are that a quorum will be present tomorrow.

The proposal to raise the capital stock has met with some opposition. The proposal is made on the ground that without the change money cannot be raised to do extensive water development demanded by conditions.

Local proxies favoring the measure are being received by John McFadden of Lyon street.

A vote is to be taken on an amendment to the by-laws relative to the compensation of directors of the company.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION HAS OFFICERS ELECTED

Officers of the Good Roads Association were elected as follows: C. F. Daggett, Pasadena, president; M. F. Tarpy, Fresno, and R. C. Irvine, Sacramento, vice-presidents.

Eddy, Stockton; N. Ellery, Sacramento; P. C. Hatch, Long Beach; P. J. Beveridge, Hollywood, and Frank Miller, Riverside.

BECOMES INSANE ON EVE OF MARRIAGE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Charged with insanity on the eve of his marriage to Miss Anna Ott, of Denver, Fred McFarland, aged twenty-eight, cashier in the Santa Fe baggage room at La Grande station, was taken from the apartments where he lodged, to the receiving hospital yesterday, and examined by Police Surgeon Wright, who said he was insane. He was to be married here tomorrow. Overstudy of Spiritualism is believed to have caused his mind to break down.

DEMANDS AUTONOMY FOR TWO COUNTRIES

BELGRADE, Jan. 20.—Prince Geo's response to the powers that bid Serbia keep the peace, is that Bosnia and Herzegovina must have real autonomy. It is said that this makes the situation extremely difficult for Austria, whatever she may do. They say that if she refuses autonomy, war is certain, and that if she grants it the concession will start all the elements of the dual monarchy to cry for autonomy and thus gravely threaten Austrian unity.

GET UNDERNEATH

If you want to lift hard—get underneath.
It doesn't matter whether you want to lift a sack of flour or a city—get underneath. If you "jump on" top, that makes just that much more for others to lift.

Rockford, Ill., has just adopted the slogan, "Rockford wants you and your business." This phrase will go on all city advertising matter, the official letterheads of all departments, and be brought to the attention of the public in every way possible.

Cities are made by boasting—getting underneath.

If a clothing salesman were to tell his customer that "this suit is well made, of good cloth, but it is out of style," how many suits would he sell and how long would he hold his job?

Even if it were true—WHICH IT IS NOT—suppose the Register should say there are four hundred vacant houses in Santa Ana; what sort of idea would the foreign reader and the transient visitor have of this city?

The fact is that Santa Ana has hardly a single desirable vacant house, but that fact and what it means must be disseminated.

Get underneath! Santa Ana and Orange county have superb natural advantages in climatic conditions and location—but that others may know these and countless other points of superiority, we must all get underneath—lift hard!

BELIEVES IN STRIKE RIGHT

President Lewis of Mine Workers Defends Himself in His Annual Report

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 19.—In his annual report read before the international convention of Mine Workers today, President Lewis defended himself against charges made previous to his re-election, and requested a complete investigation of his acts. He challenged his enemies to show anything in his conduct that had been detrimental to the organization.

Lewis pointed out that "for the first time in the history of the miners' organization in the United States it had not been demoralized during an industrial depression." His report showed that benefits paid during the six months ending December 1 amounted to over half a million dollars.

Lewis endorsed the joint conference method of reaching agreements on wages. He also emphasized his belief that the right to strike should not be surrendered.

ASK ATTORNEY GENERAL TO TAKE CHARGE OF CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The grand jury of San Mateo county has made a formal request that Attorney General U. S. Webb assume control of the investigation of the alleged conspiracy on the part of certain contractors to defraud the county in the $160,000 courthouse deal and displace Joseph J. Bullock, the district attorney. The request was made through George R. Sneath, foreman of the grand jury.

The situation is unique. The San Mateo county grand jury has discovered certain irregularities in which Bullock has figured. These irregularities consist of interlineations in building contracts for which the district attorney is said to have admitted his responsibility.

HOLDER TO BEGIN WORK FOR NEW THROOP MUSEUM

County Surveyor C. R. Schenck has asked that his office be considered in the proposed changes in the compensation of county officers, and application that it be taken off a fee basis and put on a $1800 a year salary has been made by him to Assemblyman Wheelan.

The surveyor's fees have been in accordance with the amount of work done. One claim urged for the change is that it would take the office from a basis on which there may be more or less kick on bills, to one concerning which there is no doubt about the compensation. The surveyor says his fees have come to as much as $200 per month, often less.

FIRST PRIZE FOR FIRST NATIONAL

Calendar Entitled "Purity" Issued by Local Bank Real Work of Art

The First National Bank of Santa Ana has been awarded the first prize in the "outside art" classification in the art calendar competition conducted by the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A.

Following is the letter received today by the bank:

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 18, 1909.

First National Bank,
Santa Ana, Cal.

Gentlemen:

I am very glad to notify you that your calendar entitled "Purity" took the first prize in the classification "outside art" in our calendar exhibit. The calendar is certainly a very pretty one, and while thanking you for sending the one for the Association, will say that I will appreciate it very much if you will send me another for myself. With regards, I remain,

Yours very truly,
J. LANDRUM GRAHAM,
Social Work Director.

The First National's calendar is a tinted photo engraver, 11x13 inches in size, handsomely mounted on heavy cardboard. The subject shows a beautiful woman in Greek costume poised gracefully on the edge of a fountain into which a stream of water is pouring out of a lion's mouth set in a stone wall. The woman is leaning forward with one hand resting on the lion's head and the other held in the stream of water. There is a background of tropical foliage.

We do not know the object of the Y. M. C. A.'s contest or exhibit unless it be the encouragement of the use of proper subjects and the employment of real art in calendar and other illustrated advertising.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Fifteen men are believed to have been drowned and between six and thirty others are thought to be imprisoned in a tunnel under water, today, as a result of a fire in a crib in the lake off Sixty-sixth street, which is used as a temporary workshop and sleeping place for workmen engaged in the construction of an intake tunnel.

Between sixty and seventy men were caught in the crib by fire, and many were severely burned before they could escape by jumping into the water. By 9:30 this morning forty-seven men had been picked up by tugs. It is feared many of the missing have lost their lives.

When the engine which ran the cable carrying the buckets of dirt from the crib to the mainland, started early today, the fire broke out in the crib. In an instant the superstructure was a mass of flames, and many sleeping workmen were severely burned before they could leave their bunks. The engine was put out of commission by the fire, and thus prevented the men from escaping on the cable. The fire also cut the rope running the elevator in the crib, preventing the rescue of men imprisoned in the tunnel, which is rapidly filling with water.

The crib is wooden and circular in shape, forty feet in diameter. It is used as an entrance to the tunnel, which is being built for the city water department. Forty feet below the crib is a tunnel, and the two are connected by a shaft, where the steam elevator is used to hoist the men from the tunnel.

Most of these were almost nude when picked from ice cakes where they failed to reappear. No accurate list of the dead and missing has been made.

After bringing the injured ashore, the tug returned to the crib to attempt to recover the bodies of those burned or trapped. At 11 o'clock this morning tugs were pumping air into the tunnel in the hope of saving the lives of the men whose escape was cut off when the elevator went out of commission.

MUTILATED MEN RESCUED
NEARLY FROZEN FROM ICE

CHICAGO, Jan. 20 (noon)—The fire tugs have ceased dowsing, fearing to flood the tunnel where the men are imprisoned.

One man had both eyes blown out, and others had large pieces of flesh torn from their bodies in the explosions, supposedly by small bits of dynamite, as fulminating caps were used in the construction work. The worst injured are Thomas Green, whose eyes are blown out; Chas. Rose, James Redmond, Henry Franklin, Homer Hosman, Robert Jeffries, Roger Miller, James Lee, William P. Nie, J. Mantle, Thomas Callahan, Ralph Johnson, Chas. Johnson.

Most of these were almost nude when picked from ice cakes where they had hung for an hour. All were asleep in the superstructure, and leaped into the lake unclothed. They were forced to cling to the ice cakes and were frozen so tight that portions of the flesh were torn away when they were rescued.

Between twenty and thirty are dead, one third of these being drowned. Nineteen are estimated as imprisoned in the tunnel, and their fate is unknown. Forty-five who were terribly burned and frozen have been brought ashore.

SAYS SPREADING STORM WATER ON GRAVEL BEDS IS MENACE TO VALLEY

U. E. Squires of Olive Discusses Proposal Made for Storage of Santa Ana River Water

Editor Register:—Spreading storm waters on the gravel beds—this is the newest and most dangerous scheme ever attempted by the water companies of Riverside and San Bernardino counties to rob the people of this valley of their just share of the waters of the Santa Ana river. If this scheme is allowed to be carried out "not one drop of water will flow past Colton bridge toward the sea even in winter." So says Mr. Geo. Frost, president of the Riverside Water Co.

The gravel beds upon which they propose to turn the waters of the river act as nature's reservoirs, and so extensive are they that they will absorb all the waters of the rivers in ordinary winters. If this be true and the thing be accomplished, where will the water fill our gravel beds?

It is a well established fact—so our engineers tell us—that in the course of the river from the mountains to the sea, it passes through one and across at least three great gravel beds each of many miles in extent and hundreds of feet deep and are separated by the people in the upper counties desire to fill up their gravel beds it might be done, but not in ordinary seasons and gravel reservoirs is above Colton, the second above the head of the Santa Ana canyon, and the last and least in the canyon. Now all of these vast gravel beds are filled to a greater or less extent each winter, according to the rainfall and the amount of water flowing down the river. It is therefore evident that if as Mr. Frost says they can turn out all the water and allow none to flow beyond their own great reservoir, that the second reservoir will get but a very little water and the lower one none at all.

In ordinary years the river is entirely dry for several miles above the head of the canyon and all the water that this valley gets comes out of the river sands below the dry portions of the river. Thus, we see that if no water is allowed to flow past Colton bridge, the even in winter of ordinary years there will be but little water left from which this valley can draw its supply.

What then is the duty of the two great water companies in this valley?

The answer is to immediately enjoin and stop the proceedings and permanently restrain them from in any way interfering with the natural flow of the river. If in winter when there is a vast amount of water in the river rising of the bedrock more or less the people in the upper counties desire to fill up their gravel beds it might be done, but not in ordinary seasons and gravel reservoirs is above Colton, the second above the head of the Santa Ana canyon, and the last and least in the canyon. Now all of these vast gravel beds are filled to a greater or

OIL GUSHING TO BOILER STARTS BAD FIRE

Rig, Tools and Storage Tank
Destroyed by Flames—
$4000 Loss

QUARTER MILLION FOR FULLERTON

Shipments From That District
Alone Will be 100
Carloads

FULLERTON, Jan. 20.—The rig and tools at well No. 17, now drilling on the Columbia lease were destroyed by fire today and several hundred barrels of oil in a storage tank were also burned. The flames and smoke could be seen several miles away. No other damage was done.

The well is down nearly 2500 feet, and, it is believed, will be one of the heaviest producers in the Fullerton field when completed.

It was flowing oil today and gushed high over the top of the rig, igniting from a boiler nearby.

As part of the tools can be used again, the loss is only about $4000.

Walnut Output

With the exception of a few carloads, the Fullerton walnut crop has been marketed and the growers will receive for the local output a little over $250,000, or about $2600 per car. The Benchley Fruit Company has shipped twenty-six cars and has four to move, showing an increase from this house of five cars over last year. The Fullerton-Placentia Association has shipped forty-three cars and has ten to move out, which gives this house an increase of ten cars over last year's output. About sixteen or seventeen cars are shipped outside of the two local associations, which will bring the shipments from Fullerton up to at least 100 carloads.

The Anaheim Union Water Company has sold $120,000 of its new bond issue to local people, and probably will place $30,000 or $40,000 more bonds with home financiers. It may not have to seek outside capital. The directors have ordered plans drawn for the new office building, which will be erected in Anaheim at an expense of $5000.

Postmaster Edwards is at Holtville looking after his 160-acre ranch. Fred Rich and family, of Olinda, left yesterday for Lowell, Ariz., where Mr. Rich will develop and improve his ranch.

The Lee Myers six-acre orange and walnut grove in Placentia has been sold to Andrew Ipsen. Stern & Goodman made the sale.

Miss Rosa Jaeger is expected to arrive here this week from Wurtemberg, Germany, for an extended visit with her brother, W. J. Jaeger, and sisters, the Misses Jaeger. Miss Emily Jaeger went to Salt Lake City this week to meet her sister.

WET WEATHER HELD IT BACK

Packinghouses Have Not Been As Busy as They Were Before Rain

Shippers Expect the Market to Pick up With a Better Product

The wet weather is delaying the picking of oranges to such an extent that almost nothing has been done at the packing houses for the past ten days. The Hewes packing house expects to get out a couple of cars almost immediately. The Harper packing house shipped two cars yesterday and will continue at the rate of two per day during the season if the mud does not prevent the pickers working.

Localities outside Orange county have hurt the market for the time being by shipping quantities of frozen oranges. This has lowered the market and retarded sales of good fruit. The stuff has now been nearly all disposed of and it is expected that the demand will be good and prices return to the normal figure immediately.

Alland Fruit Co. shipped a car of lemons yesterday and expects to get at oranges today.

Mrs. I. A. Stanley was elected president, Mrs. Al Adams secretary, and Mrs. J. P. Urschel treasurer. Mrs. J. T. Williams had served in the office of president for years and by her interest in all branches of church work, and the kindly giving of her time and thought to it she has done much for the good of Villa Park. This is realized and was acknowledged by the presentation to her of a beautiful chocolate set, not in any sense as a reward, but as a slight token of the esteem in which she is held by the ladies of Villa Park.

In this connection it might not come amiss to speak a few words of appreciation of Mr. Urschel who has done so much for the Master's work in this same locality. He is a busy man but has found time, not only on Sundays but work days as well, to give to church work. At Christmas time his grateful friends presented him with a beautiful willow rocking chair, as a slight token of the regard in which he is held.

The next meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be with Mrs. Ray Billingsley on the second Tuesday of February.

GOOD PROGRAM FOR ENTERTAINMENT

Ladies Aid of M. E. Church Has Good Talent for Friday Evening

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. church will give an entertainment gotten up by home talent, on Friday evening next, in the church auditorium.

A male quartette, accompanied by Miss Bibber, a violin solo by Mr. Julius Huff and readings by Miss Sue Dean of Los Angeles, are features of the evening. Miss Dean has made a marked success of her readings and the audience is indeed fortunate that has the pleasure of listening to her. She was a former Orange girl. A silver offering will be taken.

MUDGY FIELDS WERE HELP TO THE PRICES

Ground is Drying Out and the Pickers Are Again Kept Busy

Seventy sacks of peas, fifty crates of tomatoes, fifteen sacks of string beans and twenty crates of bell peppers were the Villa Park shipments of yesterday.

Prices have been high as it was almost impossible to secure vegetables during the rains, the ground being so wet pickers could not work. Now that the ground is drying out and pickers are busy it is more than probable that prices will drop rapidly.

WORDING OF APPLICATION FOR MEMBERS

The following is the wording of the application for stock in the Orange Walnut Growers' Association:

"Orange, Cal., Jan. 15, 1909. I hereby make application to become a member of the Orange Walnut Growers Association, and agree to take one share of stock in the Company at one dollar a share, and sign the by-laws of said Company, and I further agree to deliver all my walnuts to the above named company at time and place to be named by the Board of Directors.

"And to insure a quorum or majority of stock at the annual meeting, or any other stockholders' meeting of the above named company which is necessary to transact business, in case of absence of myself or proxy, I hereby authorize the board of directors of said company to act as my attorney, to vote my stock, or to appoint a proxy to vote it and act as my attorney, and to do any and all business lawfully that I could do myself in person."

BIBLE CLASS WAS WELL ENTERTAINED

The Misses Myrtle and Mabel Parker most delightfully entertained the Utopian Bible class of the Presbyterian Sunday school last evening at their home on East Palmyra avenue.

The principal game of the evening was an auction sale of articles listed on a sign and done up in curiously shaped bundles. Mr. Higgins of the O. U. H. S. was auctioneer. Each person was given $100 (100 beans) in money with which to purchase. "A bit of old lace" was one of the articles listed, which proved to be a piece of old shoe string; "an old weapon" was a pen which is known to be "mightier than the sword." The game was most amusing throughout and all enjoyed it thoroughly. Delicious refreshments were served to the twenty-five young people who were present.

This is Rev. Jackson's class and is one of the jolliest Sunday school classes in Orange as well as one of the most earnest. They meet once a month at the members' homes for a good time and always manage to have it.

BIG INITIATION IS ON FOR TONIGHT

The Fraternal Brotherhood will have a big time tonight at Odd Fellows Hall. They will initiate a class of twenty who have come in from the Fraternal Champion organization. The "District Skule" will be one of the features of the social part of the evening. The lodge has a membership in the neighborhood of 250 and numbers most of the business and professional men of Orange on its roll.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicine are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonial. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has the badge of honesty on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, peritoneal pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging down distress in lower abdomen or pelvic, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or the derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; it will not dissolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any other can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

MEMBER OF THE UNITED PRESSNEED OF MORAL ELEMENT IN POLITICS

And now comes Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, a New York society leader, and in an address to the woman suffragists, strongly hints that the government heretofore carried on by the lords of creation has not been such a howling success after all. She argues that the influence of woman is needed to instill into it that moral element which has generally been so conspicuous by its absence.

Come to think of it there may be a grain of truth in what the lady says. Measured by its fruits, man-government has very little to be proud of. Government may reasonably be defined as the control of organized society in the interests of humanity. Judged by such a rule, man's government has been a dismal failure. Its history fully justifies Bobbie Burns when he says,

Man's inhumanity to man,
Makes countless millions mourn.

If our memory serves us right, the record shows man-made government to consist of little else than accounts of wholesale murders carried under the patronage of government, through the agency of what are called "battles," between organized bodies of men, trained and drilled to the art of killing their fellow men. And of the thousands of these battles recorded, only fifteen can be found that had any decided effect upon the history of the world. It goes without saying, therefore, that millions of men have been killed out of wanton foolishness or sheer incompetency of man's government. And the worst of it is that the wrong ones get killed. If the men who do the governing would always supply the corpses the world could stand it very well. But the governed are the people who get knocked on the head, and the fellow who shows the greatest skill in the business fills the highest place in the history of government by men.

In fact one of the ancient stock "arguments" against woman suffrage was that women are not suited for soldiers, and as a general rule it may be admitted that such is the case. If the enemy should dare to come to close quarters no one could tell what might happen; but for her to stand off and shoot would be more dangerous to friend than foe. But we think the soldier argument is pretty far-fetched. A man of sixty is not suited for a soldier and therefore should be disfranchised, not to say ostracized.

But in the nineteenth century was witnessed a supposedly great advance in government. Kings were sent to the rear and parliaments took the hand. This brought in the era of the politician. They pushed the good work along by suppressing freebooting and piracy on the high seas, with the result that the latter gentry went into politics themselves, and the last state of the body politic was worse than the first.

And here we are badly in need of help from some one. Come on ladies with that moral element or anything else you may have handy. We know you could make matters no worse if you should try.

THE PRESIDENT'S SALARY

The bill to increase the salary of the president to $100,000 a year—double the amount now received—is likely to fail. Practically all the democratic members are opposed to the increase, claiming that the $193,000 a year given the president for household and other personal expenses ought to be sufficient—this in addition to the salary of $50,000.

While the amount now appropriated seems adequate, there has been but one president to leave the White House with a fortune, and Roosevelt is conceded to be the only chief executive who could really afford to maintain his official position from his private fortune according to the liberal policy expected of a president these days.

President-elect Taft is a comparatively poor man, and if the White house is to be maintained as under former administrations, Brother Charley will have to "come across" if congress fails to grant the increase.

The fault lies in the fact that the people expect too much style and free feeding at the White House.

No unnecessary adjustments on our "two-horse" disc plow. J. C. Williams & Son, Orange.

EVERYBODYS. ARMOR IN ARGUMENT FOR RAISE OF CAPITAL STOCK
REPLIES TO S. J. JACKMAN

Editor Register:—If Mr. Jackman our funeral; we do not have anything will turn to page 87 of Roberts' Rules to do with their share of the burden. Of Order, he will find the following if they do not join in the improvement, extracts from the rule for decorum in debate:

"In debate a member must confine himself to the question before the assembly, and avoid personalities. * * * It is not allowable to arraign the motives of a member, but the nature or consequences of a measure may be condemned in strong terms. It is not the man, but the measure, that is the subject of debate."

Now, Mr. Editor, I defy Mr. Jackman or anyone else to point to any personalities or other violation of the foregoing rule in my article. Even the opening statement, which he seems to object to, is not a violation in any sense. It neither deals with his personality, his individual peculiarities, nor arraigns his motives (which can only be determined by his actions), nor is it "personal abuse one may heap on an opponent." It merely stated in a catchy way the facts of the discussion as they had developed thus far, that the gentleman had been completely answered at the meeting—talked to a standstill—until he had nothing further to say and did not even vote, and then "he comes back" in the newspaper along the same lines as though nothing had been answered or disproved at the meeting. When those facts were shown in contrast, the gentleman pleads the baby act by setting up the false charge of "personalities," to create sympathy for himself, as though he were unfairly dealt with.

It seems, however, that my answers in the newspaper had greater weight with him than those that were given at the meeting, for in his last article he dropped the claim that Anaheim's large capitalization caused her large debt, that our company's by-laws are wholly bad and must be reconstructed before anything else can be done, and that a smaller capitalization than $500,000 would answer all purposes. But, instead of acknowledging his mistakes, through lack of information, and coming forward like a man to help out the real needs of the valley, he hunts up something else to fret and grumble about. Does he think for a little minute that he can tell the old settlers anything new about this ditch system? All these matters have been discussed time and again; he is only threshing over old straw. Even his last bugaboo, about Anaheim not being able to carry her part of the load, was discussed when the Durkee ranch was purchased. We were told that there were a number of individuals in that company who singly and alone could finance the whole of Anaheim's debt with the Durkee purchase thrown in, and, when some of their kickers continued to chew the rag about saddling the company with such a load, one of the men offered to take the bargain off the company's hands at an advance of $5000. Surely these men combined, and with the help of all the smaller stockholders, can finance anything that, in their judgment, it is necessary to undertake to promote and protect their interests. Besides Anaheim's side of the question is not irrelevant were asked. Anyway it was answered by the secretary, and to cover up his mortification Mr. Jackman hunts up some other criticism of the records where he thinks they are not specific enough.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof, and not in the chewing of the string." Mr. Jackman's zeal should show itself in works and not in protestations; and those works should be constructive rather than destructive to benefit the water company. Of course it is possible to defeat this movement and reject the physical salvation of the valley, just as it is possible to reject the spiritual salvation offered to every one.

Respectfully,

S. ARMOR.

PRESIDENT PLEASED AT WESTERN REPORT

reflecting the sentiment of the national government.

It is argued that if a state has a right to embrass the national government on international questions, California abandoned that prerogative when she acquiesced in the adjustment two years ago. By a compact and perfect understanding, to which she became a party, between the United States and Japan, California surrendered her authority to act within her state power without flagrantly violating pledges and forcing Japan to the only alternative of demanding an apology from the national government.

Although the statement has been officially denied it is known positively that Baron Takahira, the Japanese ambassador, has courteously pointed to the hostile legislation of California and suggested that such action could not but be construed by Japan as repudiating the agreement between the two countries.

CALIFORNIA SENATORS SUPPORT PRESIDENT

Senators Flint and Perkins of California are using their influence in supporting President Roosevelt in his attitude toward Japanese measures in California. Senator Flint wired Governor Gillett prior to the Roosevelt telegram advising the holding of these measures pending the receipt of the Roosevelt message.

Representative Kahn said today: "If the president believes the situation is so grave that trouble would arise if this legislation is enacted, I think he would be justified in sending a letter to the governor of the state urging him to influence the legislature against such legislation."

Another California representative expressed his belief that the people will meet the president half way, as they did two years ago when they acceded to his request to kill similar legislation.

If I remember correctly, the engineer did not give the cost of that work at the figures quoted by Mr. Jackman, but he did give the total in Orange at $250,000—one-half or $125,000 to each company—so there goes fact No. 1 by the board. That we not only could not but would not do the work alone, is no argument against the increase of capitalization, so there goes fact No. 2 aglomerating. By the showing already made in this article, Anaheim can and will come up with her half, so there is an end of fact No. 3. Even if these were true facts and as strong as Mr. Jackman stated (which they are not), there would still be sufficient reason for increasing the capital stock to more nearly correspond with its actual value and to more fairly represent the vast interests at stake. It is the one thing necessary to enable our side to join in this improvement, if it should be undertaken; and if it should not be undertaken, no harm will result from the larger capitalization to a single stockholder.

The quibble about the cost of supervising the Durkee ranch is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial to the question under discussion; perhaps Mr. Jackman will tell us why that and a number of other questions equally

FULLER ADMITTED TO PRACTICE LAW

Local Man Passed Examination and Will Establish Office Here

Santa Ana's newest attorney is J. T. Fuller. Fuller yesterday passed the examinations before the Second District Court of Appeals and was admitted to practice. Out of the fifty-seven men who took the examinations and the thirty-one who passed them, Fuller stood at the top. He has been studying here for a number of months past, having first taken a course in a correspondence school and following it up with study in local offices. For the last six months he has been in the office of Attorney J. Howard Bell. Attorney Fuller will establish an office in Santa Ana. For a number of years he was associated with his father, J. R. Fuller, in the real estate business here.

ESCAPED SCRUTINY BY CLAMBERING THROUGH WINDOW

Two Couples Newly Wedded Take Unusual Exit From the Courthouse

Two brides and two bridegrooms clambering through a courthouse window—that occurred at the Santa Ana courthouse yesterday afternoon. There are a good many couples who come to the courthouse and are there made man and wife by Justice of the Peace Smithwick, but it remained for two Los Angeles couples to set a new style of exit.

Loman W. Keim and Blanche E. Perry; Duval E. Ellery and Elsie M. Austin; these secured their licenses and were ushered into the Board of Supervisors' room. It so happened that a number of visitors were at the courthouse and in the supervisors' room, and among them were several who recognized Mr. Kleim and Mrs. Austin, who are brother and sister and who formerly lived at Santa Ana, both now of Los Angeles. The two couples asked for a private wedding, a family gathering as it were, and the onlookers, greatly disappointed, withdrew to the corridor, and there awaited that they might secure a sight of the newly wedded people that they might determine whether or not the ceremonies had changed their appearance perceptibly or otherwise.

That they would have to run the gauntlet of critical eyes, the couples were apprised. The brides stormed. They declared they would not. The bridegrooms were very meek, indeed, for they saw nothing for it but to camp in the supervisors' room until darkness drove the would-be spectators to their homes.

But some angel of luck put an idea into the head of one of the brides. Why not try the window. Adjoining the supervisors' room is a committee room and a window opens from it on the front steps of the courthouse. And out that window they went.

Old shoes had been quickly gathered from somewhere in the neighborhood and tied to a surrey that stood outside the courthouse awaiting the coming of Mr. and Mrs. Kleim and Mr. and Mrs. Ellery.

Bloodgood, and Miss Bloodgood they are to have the property, and on their death it is to be divided equally among the other heirs of Mr. Bloodgood. The will was written on Jan. 16, 1910, and was witnessed by W. H. Newcomer and E. T. Langley. E. T. Langley is attorney for the petitioner. The estate is valued at $1,000.

THE EMMANUEL MOVEMENT TALKED OF

Rev. C. P. Dorland Gave Choice and Illuminating Thoughts

Marvelous Possibilities Told of In Language Plain and Simple

A talk of more than ordinary interest and practical value was given by Rev. C. P. Dorland of Long Beach, before the Talk-It-Over Club at the First Congregational church last evening, on the Emmanuel Movement. Dr. Dorland has gone deeply into the subject and believes profoundly in the wonderful possibilities for good in the rational development of psychotherapy. The speaker began by describing briefly the conditions and circumstances which led Dr. Worcester of the Emmanuel church of Boston, to begin relief work among the poor and sick in the tenement districts of Boston, first in the way of a tuberculosis and hygiene class, later as a class for the treatment of nervous diseases, and finally in the more developed form of clinic and health class as now conducted. The use of diagrams on a blackboard aided greatly the speaker's clear exposition of the principles of the movement.

Man is a combination of body, mind and spirit. Christian Science denies the body. Materialists deny the mind and spirit. Thus we have various one-sided cults and theories. The Emmanuel movement recognizes all three elements. It says man is a spirit and has a mind and lives in a body.

Dr. Dorland laid down as a fundamental proposition that the normal condition of man is health, health of body, health of mind and health of spirit. The old doctrine of the depravity of man is all wrong. Man starts out as good in body, mind and spirit. If the body becomes diseased it is because something is done to make it so; if the mind and spirit become corrupt it is because they are taught corruption. The time will come when the babe, starting with its endowment of wholesome tendencies, will develop into wholesome manhood or womanhood as certainly and naturally as the rose unfolds from stage to stage of its growth. In this connection the speaker explained the operation of the subconscious self and its relation to the objective self, using the illustration of the prism which separates a ray of light into three great divisions or groups of elements. So the mind is made up of the supraliminal, the part above the threshold, the spiritual and aspirational; the objective or conscious part, which gathers in experience from the outside world through the five physical senses and reasons inductively; and thirdly, the subconscious or subjective mind, which lies below the threshold of consciousness and blindly obeys suggestions given it by the objective or conscious mind. This subjective mind has control of all the bodily functions and carries them on independently of our volitions. The mind under certain conditions of disease may become split off or broken up into separate streams of consciousness, giving rise to the phenomena of multiple or secondary personality, of which the speaker gave a number of interesting examples.

An important truth is that health is not feeling. When the stomach or other bodily organ is healthy we do not feel its operation. When one has feeling something is going wrong. And the same is true of religion. Health is a condition of state and not feeling. Life manifests itself not in feeling but in buoyancy of condition.

Suggestion is the most marvelous conception of this generation and we are just beginning to appreciate and understand its wonderful power and possibilities in the restoration of normal conditions of body, mind and spirit, and the further development of latent powers. The subjective mind takes the conclusions of the objective mind as absolute truth and acts upon it. Fear causes the arteries to contract, paralyzes the nerves, renders the muscles inactive. Anger, fear, hate produce physical conditions and also affect the spirit. Some thoughts are more forceful than others. Intellectual, emotional and spiritual ideas might be rated in the following order, 5, 10, 100 in their influence upon the subconscious. Therefore, spiritual ideals are the most powerful forms of suggestion that can be used in controlling the subconscious forces. For this reason the Emmanuel work is primarily spiritual.

PUT AN END TO YOUR STOMACH TROUBLE

Have This Over With Forever So You Can Eat Anything You Like

—Does it ever occur to you how busy that little stomach of yours is? It actually holds three pints, though in one year you force it to take in 2500 pounds of material, digest it and prepare it for assimilation to the blood. Do you wonder at the number of cases of indigestion and stomach trouble? You crowd it with steaks and pastry, irritate its juices with spices and acids and expect this little four-ounce mill to do its work. Is there any wonder that your food passes undigested, or lays like a lump of lead in the stomach? That everything you eat turns to acid, stomach gas and stomach poison, putrefying the intestines and digestive canals, causing biliousness, headaches, dizziness and indigestion, heartburn, nauseous breath, constipation and other more dangerous symptoms?

Call your disease what you will—indigestion, gastritis, nervousness, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, etc.—you know the real name, the real disease is fermentation of the food you eat—a sour stomach, which belches gas and erupts undigested food or causes a feeling of nausea and miserableness.

All these miseries vanish promptly when you stop this food fermentation. Take fifty cents to your pharmacist for a case of Pape's Dlaepsin. Eat a triangle, and five minutes later your stomach will do what a healthy stomach should—that is, turn every bite you eat into bodily nourishment and without you realizing that you have a stomach. One triangle will digest all the food you eat without the aid of stomach, because it contains just the elements found in a good, strong, healthy stomach.

AMUSEMENTS

A Winter's Tale

Many seasons of success have not blinded Charles B. Hanford to the necessity of keeping his productions up to the highest possible standard. The enormous personal following he has won has not tempted him to relapse into the old-fashioned star system, which meant a dependence on the vogue of a single player of recognized greatness and an utter subordination of cast and stage equipment. Among the great lessons that Mr. Hanford learned during his association as a young actor with Edwin Booth and Lawrence Barrett was that a competent player need fear no rivalry in his own company; that the greatness of a performance was enhanced by efficiency in the portrayal of the surrounding characters. When such players as Booth, Barrett and Modjeska appeared in co-operation instead of rivalry the death-knell of petty jealousy was sounded, so far as the higher drama was concerned. Mr. Hanford has again surrounded himself with the most capable players available in the Shakespearean field. His leading woman, Miss Marie Dronah, has a clientele that will hail with deep satisfaction the recovery of health which enables her to re-appear in such roles as Katherine in "Taming of the Shrew," Beatrice in "Much Ado About Nothing," Portia in "Merchant of Venice," and Hermione in "The Winter's Tale." This last named play is Mr. Hanford's selection for special spectacular production this season. In addition to the role of Leontes he will play the part of that jocund scamp "Autolycus," a character in which the greatest classic players have delighted to display their versatility. Among the members of the supporting company may be mentioned Mr. John M. Kline, whose work has, during previous engagements, attracted so much favorable attention. "The Winter's Tale" is a play not often seen, yet one of

We leave over the Southern Pacific for the great Lindsay district, the tried and proven orange country.

We claim and can demonstrate the following points of superiority over the Southern and older orange districts.

- 1st. Better and more uniformly suitable soil.
- 2nd. More abundant and cheaper water.
- 3rd. Cheaper land, about one-third to one-half less.
- 4th. No insects, scale, smut or diseases.
- 5th. Cheaper cost of producing oranges.
- 6th. Earlier ripening, about six to eight weeks.
- 7th. Better oranges, in size, color, weight, form, flavor and keeping qualities.

8th. More rapid and thrifter growth of trees, and therefore heavier and better fruit.

THE MARKETS

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Beef slowly continues to advance. Changes reported yesterday morning show steers from  $\frac{1}{4}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  higher, live weight. Heifers have gone up the same amount. The effect on dressed meat was apparent owing to a sympathetic condition. Pork products are still going up, and several small changes have been made this week, fitting ham, bacon and lard up fractionally.

Eggs went lower on the heavier production of the surrounding territory.

Wells, Fargo & Co. arrivals were 110 cases of California production and 50 cases of eastern eggs. Independent dealers estimated the wagon arrivals at 250 cases yesterday, and many of the small outside grocers had good receipts. This caused the buying price on case count to go to 34 cents, while candler stock sold to the retail consumer at an average of 37 cents, some going a cent higher on special grades.

The few easterns which came in were laid down at 37 $\frac{1}{2}$  cents and offered for sale at 39.

Butter continues to go higher with the decrease of storage supply, now almost entirely consumed. The selling price on creamy extra stock went up to 80 cents per two-pound roll on the outside. Firsts advanced to 70 cents, while cooking butter also went up fractionally and is now averaging 26 cents a pound. Dairy remained the same. Express receipts of the day were 23,304 pounds.

Highland spuds are on the advance. Every day has seen them more firm in the past week, and slight advances have been the rule. Yesterday some fancy Highlands sold up to $2 per hundred. Salinas were firm. Onions were also firm and unchanged with a fair call. Sweets continued all too plentiful, and many were thrown away on account of quick rot which attacked them and which causes destruction in a day or two.

Beans are bringing a premium when of extra good quality. Much of the stock which has been coming in for several days is badly spotted on account of the rain. Fancy wax beans brought as much as 20 cents a pound. Peas, on the other hand, have been going down and are selling at present for 7 cents. Red cabbage is plentiful and is averaging 3 cents a pound. Summer squash have gone away up and sells at $1 per box.

Wild ducks were scarce. Wild

NAVEL STOCK
CLEANED OUT

Orange County
Many Trees to Fresno
County This Year

Agents Scouring the Country
Fail to Find Supply They Search For

"Orange county has been cleaned out of orange nursery stock," said a nurseryman this morning, "and men are still scouring the country for more of it."

He said that representatives of Fresno county land owners were the principal buyers, and most of the stock asked for has been navel. Much stock was shipped to Imperial, but the bulk of the sales were for Fresno county planting. Thurston's Frostless Nurseries, near El Modena, had 30,000 young trees at the first of the season. These were sold. Within the last week the nurseries have had one order for 30,000 young trees which it was unable to fill. The trees have been bringing ninety cents and $1 apiece.

As it takes two years from the seedbed to get a tree in shape for market, the present demand could not be foreseen.

MINISTER TO LEGISLATORS

Talking as Man to Man Dr. Temple Says They Must Guard Country's Interest

He Believes in the Granting of Ballot to Women to Secure Her Help

A unique meeting was held in Sacramento on last Sunday night, when Rev. Dr. W. H. G. Temple, laying aside his ministerial prerogatives, talked as a plain citizen to a gathering of legislators, in the First Congregational church. He said that the legislators should be vitally interested in three great movements: The development of the country, protection of its interests and punishment of those who offend the laws.

"An Ideal Detention Home"—Evelyn L. Stoddard.

The Older Delinquents: "After the Verdict, What?"—Hester T. Griffith; "After Serving the Sentence, What?"—Elizabeth Baker Bohan.

"The Labor Problem"—Stanley B. Wilson.

"Should Society Guarantee to Every Man the Opportunity to Work?"—George A. Gates, President Pomona College.

"The Saloon Problem"—Rev. J. Q. A. Henry.

"The Devil's Joke"—Dr. Charles Edward Locke.

Excellent music will be enjoyed. Mrs. Maud Winbiger of Santa Ana, will be one of the singers on Thursday afternoon, and Louise Nixon Hill, the well known singer of Los Angeles, will sing on Thursday evening.

The names of distinguished speakers such as President Gates of Pomona College; Dr. Charles Edward Locke, who succeeded Bishop McIntrye as pastor of the First M. E. church of Los Angeles; Rev. J. Q. A. Henry; Mrs. Hester Griffith, help to make the program doubly attractive.

"Has woman a right to the ballot?"

If so, is it expedient? The law says woman is not a person. In marriage she loses her identity. She becomes a cipher. Her husband is an integer. She is on his left side. And that makes ten. Legislation against women is class legislation on the distinction of sex. She ought to be recognized as man's equal politically, as she is morally and mentally.

"Is it expedient that she vote? Some deny her right, and say it is inexpedient. Some admit her right and still declare it inexpedient. Let us look at it in two ways. Will her influence be better than man's? What will the reactive influence on herself be? What has been her influence in business, libraries, schools and literature? Everyone knows they are better for her presence. We are jealous of the modesty, of the purity and the fineness of woman.

We crown her queen. If a ballot will make her less womanly, we don't want her to have it. But I don't believe it will. With the potent slip of paper in her hand, I think she will use it to make our homes sweeter, our politics purer, our lives better, and our nation greater. Let us give the woman her ballot."
